The body will be taken to Groton for burial.

Connecticut hunters are somewhat uncertain over the changes in the new game laws and are waiting to have the law explained before taking out licenses. The new license, which has been raised from $1.00 to $1.25, gives the hunter only three months' privileges, as it expires on January 1, and while some have the impression that no provision has been made to cover next year's hunting, others think that another license must be taken out January 1 to enjoy the privileges of the sport during 1910.

EIGHTY-SEVENTH BIRTHDAY

Celebrated by Mrs. Harriet Maynard of Rochester, N. Y., at Daughter's Home.

Mrs. Harriet Maynard of Rochester, N. Y., who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. William Ledger of Laurel Hill, was given a delightful party Thursday evening in celebration of her eighty-seventh birthday. Those present were Mrs. Charles Pierce and daughter of Allyn Point, Mrs. Warren Roy and daughter of Norwich Town, Miss Olive Ketchum of Auburn, N. Y., Mrs. Charles Winchester of River avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd H. Ledger and Mrs. George Dolan of Laurel Hill. AT BROADWAY THEATRE.
The White Squaw.
The White Squaw, a story of Canadian backwoods life, was given at the Broadway theatre on Thursday evening to a small audience. The company of seven people gave a presentation of the play which from the applause and curtain calls brought pleasure to the audience.

John Gilroy as the trader and Edmond Carey as the trapper, carried their parts in a manner which showed their ability, while Della Clark and Grace Cahill as the white squaw and her sister, were well cast for their respective roles. The four acts took place within the hour and a half of the Indians in the Canadian forest. The other members of the company gave good support.

RESISTING THE CONTRACTOR.
Walls of the Universalist Church Refuse to Fall in Sections—Pigeons Greatly Disturbed.

The pulling down of the main street front of the Universalist church was an interesting sight which attracted a considerable sidewalk audience late yesterday afternoon. Contractor Williams had a force of men with a block and tackle hauling on the corner of the building, which proved a stiff and solid mass, resisting all efforts to bring it down all in one piece.

The wire cable was given a number of different holds and finally secured a grip which brought down a larger section, cleaning off the main street wall up to the front wall of the building, which is all that is now standing. The work was in progress the pigeons which roost there clung to their accustomed places, even lighting on parts of the section that was about to topple over.

BONNIE BARN WON AGAIN.
Took the 235 Trot or Pace at Riverhead, L. I., in Easy Style on Thursday.

On Thursday evening word was received here from Thomas F. Burns that his horse Bonnie Barn had won the 235 trot or pace, purse $400, in Riverhead, L. I., on Thursday afternoon. On Tuesday the horse won out in the three minute class.

Fire in Thames Street House.
Shortly before 10 o'clock Thursday night a still alarm to the West Main street station called out Chemical company No. 2. The fire was in the house at No. 51-53 Thames street. The fire was on the third floor in an apartment occupied by an Italian family and had been caused by the explosion of a lamp, setting fire to a table and scorching the wall of the room. The firemen quickly put it out with water secured on the premises. The fire caused great excitement in the neighborhood, which turned out a regular babel of agitated foreigners.

Central Athletic Club.
The regular monthly meeting of the Central Athletic club was held on Thursday evening in its room in the Stock building. An encouraging report was rendered on the first of the whist series and it was decided to continue in giving these two each month. Baseball matters were under discussion and other athletic plans for the fall and winter season, which will furnish attractions for the members.

Taking Turns Playing Detective.
Alfred Benfer is a detective attached to the Harlem branch bureau. He saw George A. Marsden in the Lenox avenue district enter the hall ways of several apartment houses and scrutinize the names on letter boxes. He entered No. 123 West 142d street and remained over an hour. Benfer followed when he came out.

"What do you mean by annoying me," demanded Marsden. "I'm a detective, and I'm looking for you." "The two walked north two blocks." "Now you wait here a moment," directed Marsden. "I've got to go in this building."

Benfer laid a detaining hand upon his arm. "Just a moment," he said. "Now you just let me play the cop."

Then the make-believe detective found himself a prisoner.—New York World.

DEATH CAME ON WEDDING TRIP

Taftville Couple Overcome by Gas in Providence Hotel—Arthur Tetrault Dead when Found, His Bride Unconscious but May Recover—Verdict of Accidental Asphyxiation.

Arthur Tetrault, 19 years old, of Taftville, is dead, and his bride of a day or two is at the Rhode Island hospital in Providence, in a condition, as the result of the escape of illuminating gas in their room at the Narragansett hotel in Providence, Wednesday. The couple, who were married in Taftville, arrived at the hotel Tuesday, and had evidently just been married. The accident put a pathetic end to their honeymoon.

A certificate of baptism found in the room indicated that the groom was a native of Hilt East, Sheffield county, P. Q. The medical examiner, who viewed the body, believes, as the police do, that the affair was purely accidental, and it is presumed that the gas, close beside it, was opened.

The couple registered Tuesday at the hotel, and while they were not seen much that day, they devoted the day to the wedding. The bride, who was wearing a white dress, was found hanging in the room occupied by them, together with white kid slippers and other things. The bride and groom were on their honeymoon and were stopping at the hotel before settling down to a quiet married life. The bride was found hanging from the ceiling, and the groom was found lying on the floor. They were assigned a room. They came down to dinner and retired early.

The Man Was Dead.
Wednesday morning they had breakfast, and about ten o'clock went to their room. They were not seen or heard of again until Wednesday evening, when one of the hall boys detected the odor of gas in the corridor. He traced the odor and found that it was strongest about the room occupied by the Tetraults. The matter was at once reported to the night clerk and an effort was made to arouse the pair. This failed and the door was forced and the room was found filled with gas. The young couple lay on the bed, and it was seen that the man was dead. The bride was alive, but apparently near death. A hurry call was sent for the Rhode Island hospital, and the bride was taken there. The man was found dead in the room. The police were called, and the medical examiner was called and he pronounced the death of the bride as accidental and gave permission for the removal of the body to undertakings.

Probably Dead Several Hours.
The investigation showed that the man came to his death in the middle of the room. The gas and electric lights are on one chandelier and the buttons for the electric lights are on the wall. The police think that the man in turning off the electric light accidentally turned on the gas. The bride was found lying on the floor. The man was found dead in the room. The police were called, and the medical examiner was called and he pronounced the death of the bride as accidental and gave permission for the removal of the body to undertakings.

NORWICH DEATH RATE
Number During August Was 38, With Eight in Public Institutions.

According to the monthly bulletin of the state board of health by mortality reports received there were 148 deaths in the city of Norwich during August. This was 57 more than in July and 61 more than in August of last year, and 13 less than the average number for the same month for the five years preceding.

The death rate was 17.1 for the large towns, for the small towns 15.7, and for the city of Norwich 14.8. The deaths were 184, being 12.5 per cent. of the total mortality.

In Norwich there were 38 deaths, representing a death rate of 15.6 per thousand, 11 of which were under 5 years of age, or 28.3 per cent. of the total. The following diseases: Diseases of nervous system 6, diarrhoea 5, heart disease 5, accidents 4, diseases of the respiratory system 3, malaria 2, consumption, pneumonia, 1 each, and 15 from all other diseases. There were eight deaths in public institutions, 9 in New London and 3 in Windham. There were 22 marriages here in July with 16 in New London, 10 in Windham, 5 in Putnam, 2 in Stonington.

There were 25 deaths in New London last month, 14 in Groton, 15 in Killingly, 10 in Stonington and 24 in Windham. Norwich had 31 births in July, New London 34, Groton 18, Killingly 15, Putnam 19, Stonington 12 and Windham 20.

Norwich has had few cases of infectious diseases, although there have been two cases of diphtheria, typhoid fever and consumption during the month.

Health officers' reports showed New London had in August three cases of measles one case of diphtheria, typhoid fever and consumption. Waterford had three cases of typhoid fever, Old Saybrook one, Ledyard and Colchester had each two cases of measles, whooping cough was epidemic in Taftville, where it was reported that it had been brought from Groton, four in Clinton, five in East Lyme, three in Essex, two in Jewett City, one in Westport, one in Norwich, one in Groton, one in Stonington, one in Voluntown. The health officers of Preston and Chester forgot to make reports.

MONTVILLE MILL CHANGES
Keyes Process Co. to Locate in the Old Woolen Mill.

The Alpha Manufacturing company of Montville, which a few weeks ago sold the Palmertown woolen mill, has almost all the old machinery out of the mill and is now preparing to move to the new site. According to the terms of sale Sept. 26 is the day fixed for the mill to be empty and ready for the new occupants, the Connecticut Keyes Process company, now doing business in the Uneasville dye mill.

The Keyes Process company will carry on the manufacture of heavy commercial paper, used for building and similar purposes.

The Keyes company has six months to wind up its business in the old dye mill, which will then probably be pulled down in the formation of the big reservoir for the Lake Umbagog project. Mr. Keyes, it is stated, has now withdrawn from the company and Mr. McDonald, who has for some time been in charge of the mill, will manage the affairs of the concern in Palmertown, his partner looking after the New York end of the business.

There is much to be done in the way of alteration in the woolen mill to fit it for the new manufacture and it is also reported that the new concern will make great improvements in the tenement property around the mill.

In 1901, he declared null and void on the grounds that his wife could not secure a legal residence in California, as the wife's domicile must be in the same state as that of her husband.

Incidents in Society

Lloyd G. Buckingham left on Thursday for a trip by water to Norfolk, Virginia.

Mrs. Frank A. Roth and Miss Alice Stephens of Pinhurst have returned from a week's visit in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Dana Colt of Broadway have returned to town from their cottage at Eastern Point.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Leslie Hopkins and sons have returned from a recent visit in Hyannis and Plymouth, Mass.

Mrs. Jean Porter Rudd and family are changing their residence from Washington place to 417 Washington street.

Miss Elizabeth M. Trumbull of Perkins avenue returned on Thursday from a month's stay at Mt. Desert island, Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Norton have opened their house on Broadway after spending the summer at their cottage at Eastern Point.

Miss Eliza W. Avery and Miss Phebe H. Brewster have returned from a week's stay at Plymouth, Mass., where they did not detect the odor of the gas. The jet was not fully open, but only partially so. A flow of gas issued into the room, however, at once and the odor must have been noticeable. The windows of the room were closed almost to the bottom.

Were Married Tuesday.
Arthur Tetrault and Rosalina Marcoux were married Tuesday morning at Sacred Heart church, Taftville, by Rev. Arthur O'Keefe, and left that afternoon for Providence and New Bedford.

This was of course not known to the police, and the couple were working under the supposition that they came from Boston, by the hotel signature, or from Canada, and telegrams were sent to both places, it being learned that they were not married in Boston.

The story of the asphyxiation was first known here on Thursday morning, when the news was obtained in the Boston papers, which contained a story of the death of a young couple, all pointed to the Taftville couple, although the fact that they registered from Boston was misleading. Suspicion was directed to the Taftville couple, but the families of the interested parties would not have believed the matter had not the birth certificate been disclosed.

Thursday noon Mrs. Tetrault's family telephoned to the Rhode Island hospital to inquire about her condition. The nurse informed that she had a chance of recovery. A telephone message received later stated that she was recovering and was now living in the home of her parents.

Francis Marcoux, father of the bride, went to Providence early in the forenoon to see his daughter, and she came home with him. The groom, also went to take charge of his bride's body.

The deceased leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tetrault in Grand Rapids, Canada, and six brothers, four living in Taftville and two in Canada. The funeral will be held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tetrault, on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The funeral will be held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tetrault, on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The funeral will be held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tetrault, on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

ORGAN FUND FOR
MT. CALVARY CHURCH
Musical Entertainment Given for Its Benefit.

A successful musical entertainment given to start a fund for an organ for the Mt. Calvary Baptist church, has been given at the church, realizing a good amount as the initial sum for the organ fund.

The entertainment was given by a group of young people, consisting of vocal and instrumental numbers, readings and recitations which were generally applauded.

Among the numbers given, the contributions of Professor Theodore Drury of Boston were rendered in finished style and much admired. A quartette in farm costume was a hit as given by Professor William H. Geary, Charles Hall, Mrs. Benson and Mrs. Louise Cobb. Another quartette number, Professor Phundo Basso, was well given by Professor Geary, Frank Carter, Miss Mary Simon and Miss A. A. Scott. The accompanists for the evening were Miss Clara Woodward and Professor Drury.

In the course of brief remarks Rev. D. W. Cannon, the pastor, commended the choir for successfully carrying on the collection and 10 in Windham, 5 in Putnam, 2 in Stonington.

The following was the programme: Piano solo, Prof. Drury; chorus, Wake, Wake; Paper on Music, Mrs. Louise Cobb; duet, Master Walker and Miss A. Simon; recitation, Mrs. M. Gertrude Cannon; violin solo, John W. Smith; solo, Miss Irene Chinn; reading, Miss Blanche Daniels; solo, Miss Mary A. Simon; quartette, The Farmer, Norwich Star quartette; solo with violin obligato, Prof. Theo. Drury; reading, Miss Idelle Scott; piano solo, Miss Mary Marshall; tenor solo, Frank Carter; recitation, Miss M. L. Cole; remarks, Rev. D. W. Cannon; bass solo, Prof. H. Geary; piano solo, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carter; quartette, Prof. Phundo Basso; chorus.

Claim chowder, ice cream and cake were served in the Sunday school room after the entertainment.

SHOT BIG HEN HAWK.
Joseph Cummings Made Early Morning Capture at Gardner Lake—Getting Bass and Duck.

On Thursday Joseph Cummings set to town a large hen hawk which he had shot in the early morning of the day previous as the bird was about to swoop down upon a flock of hens in the dooryard of the cottage where a party of young people are staying at Gardner Lake. The bird is a handsome specimen and measures five feet five inches from tip to tip.

The quartette of which Mr. Cummings is a member is having fine luck at the lake, having secured several fine bass and while there have been several ducks. From the glowing accounts of the success at the lake, the friends of the young men would not be surprised if they purchased a bungalow in the vicinity of the lake.

OPENS NEW FIELD IN DIVORCE.
Bridgeport Man Wants Divorced Wife Ejected from Living With Another Man.

A suit which may create a new line of litigation has been filed by C. R. Mack, a business man of Bridgeport, who has filed an injunction to prevent Florence P. Cantagli from living with his wife, who was divorced from him.

Mr. Mack also asks that the divorce which was granted in Petaluma, Cal., be set aside.

Painting of Old Town Mill.
The New London County Historical society will have on exhibition Friday afternoon, when the annual meeting is to be held at the society's home, the show made in the painting of the old town mill and its surroundings as they appeared in 1650. The painting is the work of H. Loweth of this city, formerly of New London, and was painted some years ago with the idea that it should
